

General Instructions

Center the words "Works Cited" on the top line. Capitalize only the first letter of each word because the bibliography is not considered a major part of the paper. Double space and indent five spaces for the second and subsequent lines. Double-space each entry, and double space between each entry. Arrange the entries in alphabetical order by the author's last name or in the title of a work without an author the first important word. Do not number the entries.
